A WEEKLY JOURNAL

PUBLISHED BY

WILLIAM A. RITSCHER, Jr.

at Bloomfield, Essex County, N. J.

Office: 314 Glenwood Avenue

Subscription, $2.00 per year, in advance.
Six months, $1.00; Three months, 50c.

Entered at the Post-office at Bloomfield as second-class matter.

THE CITIZEN solicits contributions from the general public on any subject—political, religious, educational, or social—so long as they do not contain any personal attacks.

All communications must be accompanied by the writer's name, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Advertisements for insertion in the current week must be in hand not later than Friday noon.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1894.

The Carlin Memorial.

A memorial of the late Rev. Robt. S. Carlin will be placed in the new edifice of Christ Episcopal Church. The memorial will consist of an altar and chancel railing. The foundations of the altar will be of stone and the superstructure of brass. The chancel-rail will be of brass with stone posts. The gates will be of brass. The gates are the gift of the Sunday-school children and cost $100. The total cost of the memorial will be about $600. The project is the work of the ladies of the church, and they are raising the funds for it by popular subscription.

The Rev. Robert S. Carlin, who preceded the present rector of Christ Church, made many warm friends during his short career in this town, and his untimely death was mourned by all.

The proposition for a memorial is an excellent one, and many outside of the church will appreciate the opportunity to contribute towards it, for the friendship for Mr. Carlin extended beyond the sphere of his ministerial labors and was very general throughout the town.

The new church edifice is approaching completion, and the rector announced last Sunday that it would be opened on Easter Sunday.

Gymnastic Entertainment.

The gymnastic championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, which are to be held under the auspices of the Orange Athletic Club in the Club's large tennis building, East Orange, on Washington's Birthday evening, will undoubtedly be the most interesting and exciting event held in all events are well known to the very best gymnasts. Among the notable men who will compete the most prominent one is Robert Stoll of the New York Athletic Club; B. Sandford, of the N. J. A. C., the present champion at rope climbing is entered, and on this occasion will attempt to break the record. Mr. Rice of Philadelphia, who won second place on the flying rings last year will probably be a dangerous man this year. Gus Ahl of the Newark Turn Verein the champion of the parallel bars will compete. Champion Zettler will be seen on the horizontal bar.

This entertainment is the highest class of athletics, and will be most entertaining and instructive to ladies and children who have always shown so much interest in the gymnastic exhibitions given in Orange, which however are hardly to be compared with these championships.

At the Olympic.

Some very high scores have been bowled on the Olympic alleys during the past week, as follows: W. P. Sands, 217, 225, and 257; H. M. More, 217; F. G. Tower, 193 and 185; Walter Ellor, 222; Geo. Cook, 225; Wm. Vought, 219 and 202; Arthur Leuthausser, 224. These scores are proof that the Olympic alleys are a No. 1—none better in the State. Gentlemen wishing to bowl for the prize ball will please arrange with the proprietor not later than Monday afternoon, the 19th inst. A match game was bowled on the Olympic alleys Thursday night between the Bloomfield Cyclers and the Northern Republican Club of Newark. It was a very close and interesting game, both sides doing some very fine bowling. The Cyclers defeated the Newark team by eight pins. Scores, 1,530 to 1,523. After the game refreshments were served and a very agreeable evening was spent.

Keeping An Eye on Mr. Heart.

It is the misfortune of those who are at any time identified with politics to bring their reputation for veracity under a cloud. When such persons say they are out of politics that is just the time that the enemy thinks they need closest watching. Edward Heart of the First Ward of East Orange, who has given his political opponents many a lively chase, has declared himself "out of politics." The other side think that such a statement necessitates a closer watch on Mr. Heart's movements in the future.

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. Simply what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story of its merit. One has been cured of indigestion or dyspepsia, another finds it indispensable for sick headache or biliousness, while others report remarkable cures of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, salt-rheum, etc.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable. Advt.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Abuse of the Pulpit.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Every church-goer is accustomed to hear preachers adapt and adjust the meaning of the Scriptures to meet their varying moods or to emphasize some particular phase of the subject about which they are discoursing. Most preachers are not inclined to condemn such a practice too severely, but when a minister of the gospel takes occasion to use his unsavory pulpit and sacred office for personal ends, and selects for his text a passage of scripture to which he willfully and maliciously gives a personal application, which is entirely contrary to its real meaning; when he arrogates to himself the wisdom and godliness of an ancient prophet; when he claims direct inspiration from God, and with pretended authority from on high hurls curses upon his supposed enemies, and refrains from calling down fire from heaven to devour them because he knows it would not come, the case is entirely different. Such colossal impudence, such arrogant cowardice, and such blasphemous deserves the most scathing condemnation, and the guilty man, whoever he may be, should read the story of Haman, of the gallows which he built and the use to which that gallows was put.

AN OCCUPANT OF THE PULPIT.

The Scriptures relate that in olden times Satan was wont to gather with the sons of God. From the tone of the above communication the Devil appears to have resumed the practice and seems to have got badly lashed. The allusion to the "unsavory pulpit" is somewhat amusing when compared with the balance of the letter. The writer, in his attempt to retaliate on the pulpit, has failed to catch the magnificent sublimity of pulpit anathemas and descended to the absurdly ridiculous.—EDITOR.

A Conservative View.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: The annual township election will be held on Tuesday, April 10, 1894. At that time the citizens of this township will be called upon to select three ward representatives to serve two years as members of the Township Committee. Can the voters and taxpayers do better than to re-elect the three present members, Messrs. G. Lee Stout, Thomas Oakes, and A. J. Lockwood, whose terms expire? They have proven themselves very conservative in all our township affairs. During the ensuing two years a great many important matters will be presented to the committee for action and cannot be handled by boys, but on the other hand it needs men of well-known business ability, such as mentioned above. Re-elect these men, and with the three hold-overs, I am sure the public affairs of this township will be safe for two years at least.

TAXPAYER.

A Voice from Hill Street.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: In naming streets that are deserving of the attention of the Township Committee with a view to macadamizing, why not call attention to Hill Street? If long-continued and patient taxpayers may not individually pay large amounts, but they are numerous and the aggregate makes a large sum.

Residents of Hill Street form an orderly community; an unformed policeman has never been seen on the street. Hill Street was a well populated street before many of the present streets of the town were laid out. Hill Street is a thoroughfare. In the allotment of streets for macadamizing next year let Hill Street be remembered.

IRELAND.

Brains and Ability.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Is the issue of your paper of the 10th inst. the following appears in a communication relative to a board of trade: "All the wisdom and wealth of the town is surely not confined to two dozen or less individuals." Ample proof of the correctness of the above quoted assertion is found in the two ably conducted and prosperous building and loan associations in this town. The wall of the "kept downs" is certainly "rot."

B. L. A.

Candidate Koehler.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Has Phoenix Hose Company, No. 1, endorsed Max Koehler for Town Committee?

A VOTER.

Phoenix Hose Company as an organization is not in the business of nominating, endorsing, or endorsing candidates for political offices. No doubt personally the members of the company would feel pleased and honored to see their efficient secretary in an Aldermanic chair.

Wants a Public Meeting.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Political excitement is running high over the announced candidacy of Mr. Max Koehler for Town Committee. Taxpayers are asking one another, "Who is this Max Koehler, anyhow, and what are his views on public matters?" To enlighten the inquiring taxpayers and mutually introduce Mr. Koehler and the public a mass-meeting should be called and addressed by the candidate.

VOX POPULI.

Colored Man's Inquiry.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Where does Candidate Max Koehler stand on the civil rights question? Will he be in favor of colored men on the police force?

BLACK JOE.

Mr. Koehler, no doubt, believes in equal rights and civil liberty in their broadest extent.

He is a Busy Man.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

SIR: Who is this Max Koehler, announced as a candidate for Town Committee?

INQUIRER.

He is secretary of four societies and a very busy man.

Bitten by a Dog.

George W. Cook, Jr., was bitten by a dog in the Cyclers club-room on Wednesday afternoon. The animal's teeth went through his finger.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many afflicted with rheumatism, and we urge all who suffer from this disease to give this medicine a trial. Advt.

Happy Phoenix.

The affairs of Phoenix Hose Company, No. 1, were never in a more prosperous condition than at this present time. A well-known and deeply interested member of the company says that it was never better equipped for active duty, and never before was there such a fraternal and sociable spirit existing among the members as now exists. He attributes this beneficial change in the affairs of Phoenix to the moving of the company's headquarters, which he thinks was a wise change.

Phoenix Hose-house is now a popular resort and is enlivened every evening by the presence of active members of the company. The new pool-table has proved a very profitable investment. There is also a marked change in the conducting of the business meetings of the company. There is an absence of that wrangling that afforded so much amusement to the public.

He is in Earnest.

Some people are disposed to make light of the candidacy of Max Koehler of Phoenix Hose Company No. 1, for the nomination for Town Committee. Such people are in error under a serious mistake. Mr. Koehler is just as much in earnest as General Benjamin F. Butler was when he ran for Governor of Massachusetts. Mr. Koehler in the vernacular of the politician, expects to "get there." He appreciates the importance of hustling in politics and is doing active work.

Fell from the Roof.

G. Lee Stout, Jr., met with a singular accident at his home on Franklin Street on Thursday evening of last week. While in a state of somnambulism he opened a window in his bedroom and walked out on the roof and fell from it to the ground. The injuries sustained from the fall and the exposure developed pneumonia, and he has been very ill all the week, but latest reports state that he is in a fair way towards recovery.

A Curious Census.

A committee of the Watessing Women's Christian Temperance Union recently made a house-to-house canvass of that locality, taking a census of the number of families in which intoxicating liquors were used. The taking of a census has occasioned much talk. It is not known what is the object of the work, and nieces and mothers.

hall or snow or rain, for I want to go in the omnibus to see Aunt Margaret very much indeed, and all the aunts and nieces and mothers. Make me well so that I can go in the omnibus, please do. Bless grandpa and grandma, Aunt and Aunt Sophia and Mr. Charles.

The Essex County Road Board gives notice to property owners on Bloomfield Avenue that the Consolidated Friction Company has applied to the Road Board for the location of the tracks for an extension of their line from the westerly termination of the tracks of the Newark Passenger Railway Company in the township of Bloomfield, westerly to Campbell Avenue in the township of Caldwell, and ending there.

The Road Board will give a hearing to parties interested on March 5, at the Board's office in Newark.

Miner's Theatre.

"Darkest Russia," which will be the attraction at Miner's Theatre all of next week, deals with every feature of Russian life. It shows how despotism holds its head of tyranny on the neck of the helpless subject. It shows the thorough workings of a system which can condemn and torture men and women without cause, and on the faintest whisper of suspicion exile them to the frozen wastes of the frontier. Every characteristic of the empire is shown, and every phase of life is seen—from the higher class to the lower strata of society. The audience is carried through the tribunals of the secret police, taken to the rendezvous of the nihilist, and shown the exile in his far-off home of horror. From the opening scene the interest is held in absorbed attention, and act follows act, surpassing the other in power and intensity.

"Darkest Russia" is now running at the 14th Street Theatre, New York, to enormous success, and comes direct to Newark, opening next Monday night.

A Great Success.

There can be no doubt that in "A Woman's Revenge," by the late Henry Pettitt, Manager T. H. French of the American Theatre, New York, has found a worthy successor to "The Prodigal Daughter." The play is full of such intense moments that at the end of the performance there is scarcely a dry handkerchief in the house. From this, however, it must not be inferred that the comedy element is neglected in "A Woman's Revenge," for as a matter of fact nothing could be further from the truth. There are two particularly funny characters—lovers, of course—who keep the audience in a roar during every moment they are on the stage.

The great scene of the murder trial in "A Woman's Revenge" is the most intense situation, according to many critics, that has ever been depicted in this country. While the little child is with her baby prattle giving evidence on the witness stand that bids fair to consign her mother to an ignominious death upon the gallows, the suspense is awful.

"A Woman's Revenge" has made an unequalled hit. Every night since the production the handsome and capacious American Theatre has been crowded with delighted audiences, and the applause bestowed upon both play and actors is almost without parallel in New York City.

A. H. Olmsted, Civil Engineer, has returned from the West when he has been engaged on a survey of a canal, and pipe line for the city of Duluth, Minn. He has resumed the surveying business in this town and attention is called to his card in another part of this paper. His address is No. 279 Belleville Avenue.

Another vacant place

Within our ranks we find:

A solemn, silent space

That quickly brings to mind

Our absent friend.

Our chain of brotherly love

Has lost another link!

And we must look above.

For the grave's yawning brink

Is not the end.

Perhaps some day we'll meet

When our lives shall cease.

Perhaps we too may greet

An "afterward of peace"

And heavenly rest.

Then, oh! how vain will seem

Our earthly joys and woes.

As only a transient dream.

Whatever comes, or goes,

God's way is best.

A Sleigh-Ride.

The fine sleighing during the past week has been a great temptation for the young people to enjoy an old-fashioned sleigh-ride. One of the largest parties that have taken advantage of the snow was a merry load from the Baptist Church, who had an excellent ride in a sleigh from E. B. Budd's stable, drawn by four horses, on Wednesday night. The party rode through Belleville and Passaic to Paterson, and stopped there for supper, and returned by the way of Little Falls.

A Military Drama.

A novel theatrical entertainment is to take place in this town in the near future. The details are as yet a profound secret. This much, however, has leaked out: that a well-known playwright is at work on a military drama, the characters of which are drawn from life, the originals being members of the Bloomfield Cadet Corps and the Girls' Cadet Corps. The cast will be made up of members of both organizations.

All Over Now.
